

Course Attributes

Spring 2019

Some courses have been approved to meet various student requirements for graduation. Courses approved to be part of the General Education program have attributes to indicate what part of the gen ed they meet:

- Designations (e.g., Fine Arts, Historical Studies, Literary Studies, Social Sciences)
- Perspectives/Themes for Gen Ed 1.0 (e.g., Historical & Social-Cultural Diversity theme) and the ILE or LSE courses for Gen Ed 2.0 (e.g., War and Peace in the ILE)
- Writing in the Discipline [WID] and Capstone [CAP]

Where do you find which attributes a course has?

1. The General Bulletin has course attributes in each approved course's course description. Remember, attributes are added to courses at different times, so when using the General Bulletin to determine a course's attributes you must use the correct catalog year (i.e., the year the course was taken) when reviewing the course.
2. A faster way to find these attributes for courses students will be taking in the current or upcoming semester is to review the online Schedule of Classes (found at: https://bannerweb.appstate.edu/pls/PROD/bwkschd.p\_disp\_dyn\_sched) Courses that have been assigned attributes have these specified in the far right column labeled "Attribute."
3. You can also search the Schedule of Classes for specific attributes. At the bottom of the term Class Schedule Search window, you will find the Attribute Type drop down box. Select the attribute you need and click on Class Search to get a list of the courses with that particular attribute.
